About the Careers Are Everywhere Activities Workbook

Careers are everywhere. More than just the title of this career-related workbook, children start the process of exploring the world of work as early as the elementary grades. With each class they take, with each life experience, they gain a greater awareness of the nature of work and begin to form ideas about their future career roles.

The activities in this workbook are intended to be fun and challenging. They have been designed around the building blocks of the elementary National Career Development Guidelines with the goal of raising career awareness. Specific objectives of the workbook include the concept of self-knowledge, the development of a basic understanding of interests, likes and dislikes and how to interact with others. The various activities are also designed to raise awareness of the relationship between work and learning, the awareness of how work relates to the needs and functions of society and the interrelationship of life roles. And some of the activities are just plain fun. The elementary grades are also a good time to introduce the importance of personal responsibility, good work habits and the benefits of educational achievement.

This is the third edition of the Careers Are Everywhere workbook from the Occupational Career Information section of the Arkansas Division of Workforce Services Labor Market Information (LMI) unit. We encourage counselors and teachers to use this workbook with students and share with us any unique teaching methods or lesson plans you develop so that we might share them with your colleagues in the state.

If students would like to know more about a particular occupation they see in this workbook, they can view short video clips on their computer at our Video Corner also available from LMI. The videos provide roughly two-minute clips on the duties, interactions and workplace environments of over 450 occupations, 250 of which also have Spanish language narration.

Detailed information about Arkansas occupations can also be found at www.discover.arkansas.gov under the Occupation Explorer tab.

Special appreciation is extended to the Labor Market and Career Information Department of the Texas Workforce Commission for permission given to the Arkansas Division of Workforce Services in reproducing this booklet.

Introduction

Awareness is the first process for students to begin exploring career possibilities. This activity book tries to help them develop Self-knowledge, Educational and Occupational Exploration, and Career Planning awareness while exploring sixteen career clusters. Career Clusters are groupings of jobs that share common characteristics. By looking at job clusters, a student may find a variety of careers with similar characteristics in which they may be interested. The Career Clusters shown in this activity book were developed by the US Department of Education. These clusters and associated careers and pathways can be viewed online at <https://careertech.org/career-clusters>.

The activities in this book were prepared with the National Career Development Guidelines (NCDG) in mind to help students achieve the following twelve goals for elementary grades.

Self-Knowledge:

1. Knowledge of the importance of self concept
(Self-Knowledge, pg.5; My First Resume, pg.9)
2. Skills to interact with others
(Assembly Line, pg.29)
3. Awareness of the importance of growth and change
(Filming The Future, pg.7)

Educational and Occupational Exploration:

4. Awareness of the benefits of educational achievement
(Interview, pg.35)
5. Awareness of the relationship between work and learning
(Doghouse, pg.11; Interview, pg.35)
6. Skills to understand and use career information
(Crossword, pg.23)
7. Awareness of the importance of personal responsibility and good work habits
(Assembly Line, pg.29; Work Habits, pg.39)
8. Awareness of how work relates to the needs and functions of society
(Definitions, pg.21)

Career Planning:

9. Understand how to make decisions
(Interview, pg.35; True/False Quiz, pg.38)
10. Awareness of the interrelationship of life roles
(Multiple Roles, pg.27)
11. Awareness of different occupations and changing male/female roles
(Filming The Future, pg.7; Definitions, pg.21)
12. Awareness of the career planning process
(Interview, pg.35; True/False Quiz, pg.38)

The activities can stand alone or be incorporated into a career curriculum. Self-knowledge, exploration and planning are life-long activities that begin at an early age.

Filming The Future

Thinking about your future career is important, but so is thinking about the future in life in general. Think about what kind of home and family life you want in the future as an adult.

Where will you live? The city? The country? The suburbs? What state?
Will you have any pets? What kind? Will you have children?

Draw the scenes of your future, perhaps 15 years from now. Detail the things that will have changed. What will your life be like? Show what responsibilities you will have.

The drawing area consists of three horizontal rows of film strips. Each row contains four empty rectangular frames for drawing. The film strips are represented by black borders with white sprocket holes on the top and bottom edges.

A counting activity on page 15. On the left, four objects are shown with their counts in boxes: a blue robot (15), a red and yellow skateboard (10), a black and white soccer ball (7), and a red airplane (12). In the center, there are two identical diagrams of a square with four yellow circles at the corners, connected by lines forming an 'X'. On the right, there are four bags of coins. Each bag has two blue buttons at the top. The bags contain the following coins: 2 coins with '2' and 5 coins with '1' (total 7); 2 coins with '2', 2 coins with '2', 1 coin with '1', and 2 coins with '2' (total 9); 1 coin with '1', 2 coins with '1', 1 coin with '1', 1 coin with '1', and 2 coins with '2' (total 7); 1 coin with '1', 1 coin with '7', 1 coin with '1', and 1 coin with '7' (total 10).
